If there were a way to use satellite technology to find you, we would do so. If you are an entrepreneurial, interdisciplinary-minded individual who would love to learn and work at a fast-growing company in an international team, read on! We are building an exciting new service team and are looking for a select group of outstanding people.

Background:

RapidEye AG is a provider of geospatial management information and solutions, customized to the needs of clients in the agriculture, forestry, power & communication, environmental and governmental markets. As its main data source, RapidEye owns and operates a constellation of five identical high-resolution Earth observation satellites capable of returning to any point on Earth every day. Combining the knowledge and skills of our professional staff with the unique features of our satellite constellation and ground processing facility, we are the only provider who can supply the most up-to-date, customized information to clients around the world.

We regard our employees as our greatest asset. Thus, the training of the next generation is a crucial part of RapidEye's company philosophy. Our multi-cultural and high-tech environment offers young people a broad variety of learning and studying as well as an invaluable opportunity for personal growth.

As of September 1st, 2010 we will start again with the training program (IHK-Abschluss) for Kaufmann/Kauffrau für Marketingkommunikation

We cooperate with the Oberstufenzentrum I Barnim, 16321 Bernau to provide an overall learning experience. The training generally runs 3 years, but we expect that our trainees (Auszubildende) will be highly motivated and qualified to reduce the training period to 2 years.

Given our diverse group of employees from many different parts of the world we have chosen English as the company language. We therefore require our trainees to also have an excellent command of the English language. Furthermore the following skills and requirements are needed:

- High school diploma (Abitur);
- Self-motivated and self starter;
- Ambitious and committed to achieving success;
- Team-player with good interpersonal skills;
- Solid verbal and written communication and comprehension skills;
- Flexible to adapt to fast-paced and rapidly changing environment.

We would be very happy to welcome interested individuals at RapidEye for our vocational training course.
